

by the Zoroastrian text!

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a letter or a manuscript page. The text is written in a dark ink on aged, yellowish paper. It appears to be a personal communication, possibly a letter, given the use of "dear" and "my". The script is dense and fills most of the page. There are some corrections or insertions visible, such as a small "2" above a line of text. The overall appearance is that of a historical document.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or letter. The text is written on aged, yellowed paper and is mostly illegible due to fading and the style of the handwriting. The script appears to be a form of early modern European cursive, possibly from the 16th or 17th century. The text is arranged in approximately 15 lines, filling most of the page. There are some faint markings and a small stamp or mark in the upper right quadrant, but the primary content is the dense, flowing script.
